Air Defense Jets Check Saucers

Planes Kept Ready To Probe Reports

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (U)—The nerve center of the nation's air defense admits today to being involved in the flying saucer situation.

Headquarters of the Air Force Air Defense Command, reported there has been a flurry of reports of saucers and other unidentified objects for the past two weeks.

And so seriously are the reports viewed that fast interceptor planes are kept on the ready to jet aloft to find out what goes on—if possible.

Planes Kept Loaded

"We've really been scrambling," and ADC spokesman said. "Those planes are kept loaded and ready to go and their pilots are never more than a few feet away. They're in the air within seconds of a report that seems definite enough."

The thing is not geared up just for saucers, though. The system is the same as that worked out to meet any enemy attack.

Furthermore, the ADC isn't saying what might have been found. The results of the scrambles aren't for it to announce. Findings are turned over to technical experts at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, O.

Coordinates Air Defense

The ADC, which commands and coordinates the three regional air defense commands in New York, Missouri and California, did say that its radar equipment has been picking up a lot of unexplained blips.

"For the past two weeks," the ADC reported, "headquarters has received a number of reports of unidentified airborne objects in its area through the normal detection channels of the ADC."

"In the normal performance of its assignment, it has sent fighter interceptor aircraft aloft whenever objects are detected in the area with sufficient definiteness to warrant an interception."

"It should be pointed out that radar in many instances picks up certain natural phenomena, such as ionized clouds, which may give the appearance of solid objects on the scope."

"Other manmade objects, such as flares, weather balloons and so on, may also register on the scope, and some interceptions have revealed that these are often what the unknowns turn out to be."

Driver Held For Passenger's Death

A Lisbon area man was bound over to the Grand Jury on a charge of manslaughter Friday as an aftermath of an accident Sunday morning when a 21-year-old youth was killed.

James Gardner, 29, of Ganders Flat, pleaded not guilty at a hearing before Justice of Peace Felix Butch of Lisbon on a warrant filed by Coroner Ernest R. Sturgis. He was released on $1,500 bond.

Gardner was the driver of a car in which Lauman Andrie Jr., of Lisbon RD 3, a passenger, died of a crushed skull after colliding with another car on Route 14 near Columbiana.

Gardner was also cited by the State Highway Patrol and paid a $50 fine for reckless driving in Mayor Lloyd Culler's court at Washingtonville.

Flying Saucers Reported In Korea, Japan

SEOUL (U)—Those "flying saucers" have popped up in Korea and Japan.

A Canadian destroyer recently reported sighting two such objects and recorded them on its radar; it was learned here today.

A Navy report said 40 officers and crew members of the destroyer Crusader saw the "saucers" the night of July 10. All had the familiar qualities of the puzzling flying discs.

The report, addressed to the commanders of the Far East Naval Forces and the Fifth Air Force, said the ship's radar registered "fixes" on the objects. It placed them two miles high and seven miles away.

The report said the objects disappeared before dawn.

A second report a day or two later dismissed the radar find as the planet Jupiter. One officer commented, however: "Jupiter doesn't come in pairs and it is several million miles out of range of our radar."

The only previous report of "flying saucer" sightings in Korea cropped up last February. Crews of two night-flying bombers said they saw saucer-like objects moving over North Korea.

Tokyo, too, had a saucer report. Kosuke Miyazaki, 27, of the Central Meteorological Observatory said he saw a greenish-white thing with a tail flying through the sky Friday night.

Ohio Sailor Returned On Murder Charge

COLUMBUS, O. (U)—A 28-year-old Port Columbus sailor was to be returned here today from East St. Louis, Ill., to face a murder charge in the slaying of Mrs. Laura Marie Grimshaw, 25.

Columbus police were bringing back Seaman First Class Robert Gemmell, a member of the Port Columbus Naval Air Station reserve. Gemmell was picked up Friday at the home of a friend in a suburb of East St. Louis. The friend said Gemmell had told him about a killing.

Mrs. Grimshaw, mother of three children, was raped and choked to death in her East Side home early Thursday. She had attended a dance at the Naval Air Station the night before.

Robert Cronin, chief dispatcher of the Edgemont, Ill., station of the Illinois State Police, told The Columbus Dispatch by telephone that Gemmell had admitted the slaying.

The police officer quoted the sailor as saying he had been seeing Mrs. Grimshaw "two or three nights a week" and became enraged when the woman threatened to tell his wife about their affair.

Gemmell is the father of two children. His wife is expecting another baby. Mrs. Grimshaw's husband, Robert T. Grimshaw, a Navy petty officer, is in the hospital here with a broken ankle.

Civil Rights Plank Upheld By Dem

Two-Sided Meaning May Avoid Dixie Bolt

WASHINGTON (U)—One of the architects of the Democratic platform said today it's probably a good thing that Northern and Southern Democrats contend the new civil rights plank means different things.

"That's all right with me as long as they all vote right in November," Sen. Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island told a reporter. Despite mounting Dixie-Yankee disputes about just what the civil rights plank pledges, Green said the compromise should eliminate any bolt by Southern states similar to the 1948 defection.

Green Oldest Senator

Green, oldest senator—he will be 85 on Oct. 2—was one of the 19 members of the preliminary platform drafting committee that worked day and night at Chicago.

Their two-phase compromise avoided a party-splitting fight both in the 125-member Platform Committee and later on the convention floor.

The civil rights section promised continued Democratic activity in the field of racial relations to eliminate discrimination in political rights, employment and other fields.

A separate section pledged improvement of congressional procedures so that a minority could not obstruct legislation in either the Senate or House.

Both Use Platform

Since the convention action, Southern and Northern Democrats have used the words of the platform as a mirror for their conflicting views.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson of Virginia, in announcing his support for a straight Democratic ticket this fall, said the new civil rights plank "is less threatening to the Southern viewpoint than the 1948 plank."

Sen. Blair Moody of Michigan, Sen. Herbert H. Lehman of New York.

Attorney Convicted Of Hitting Pearson

WASHINGTON (U)—Attorney Charles Patrick Clark was convicted in Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of assaulting Communist Drew Pearson in a two-punch fracas here June 18.

The jury reached its verdict in 36 minutes after a two-day trial in which Clark, whose clients include the Spanish Government, pleaded self defense.

Sentencing was deferred until Tuesday. The maximum penalty for assault is a year in jail and $500 fine.

Pearson testified Clark, without warning, hit him in the neck as he was leaving the Mayflower Hotel dining room. Other witnesses said another punch grazed Pearson's shoulder.

Clark testified he hadn't intended to hit Pearson, who had written critically of Clark's activity on behalf of the Spanish Government, but the columnist made a belligerent gesture. Pearson said he didn't raise his hands.

Long Drought Said Among Top Disasters

August To See New High In Cost Of Living

Food Prices Jump To New Record, Up 1.2 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (U)—Government stabilization chiefs look for the over-all cost of living to hit another new high later this month. "The ugly picture of rising prices is plain to anyone with a desire to see it," Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall said.

His comment last night followed a bureau of Labor Statistics report that food prices have jumped to a new record—up 1.2 per cent for the two-week period ended July 15 and almost 16 per cent above June 1950 when the Korean fighting began. Food makes up about a third of the average urban family's budget.

Republicans were blamed by Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam.

"There's no question that the cost of living is going to rise somewhat and that the 82nd Congress (only recently adjourned) did curb our program," Putnam said in a radio broadcast.

"There's just no question that the Republican party was voting to cripple controls. The Democrats were fighting to keep the power of controls where they're needed."

The report, Arnall told a reporter shows the public can expect "rising prices, higher living costs, further depreciation of the dollar; and fewer airplanes, tanks, guns and equipment for the amount of money we are spending for national defense." He added:

"The constant increase in living costs, especially the steady rise in the cost of food, is a strong argument against those siren voices among the business community who have been telling Congress and the people that... the need for concern about the cost of living is over."

Sheriff Investigating Two House Breakings

The breaking and entering of two Columbiana County homes Friday was reported today by the sheriff's office.

The home of John Reuter, located on Route 30 south of Lisbon, was broken into sometime late Friday afternoon and an undisclosed sum of money taken. The home of Mrs. O. S. Hill, located on Route 164 south of Lisbon, was entered sometime late Friday night.

Sheriff Howard Clark is investigating today.

Chicago Man Injured

Public Has Equal Chance In Flower Show To Be Held Aug. 14

John Doe or Mrs. Average Housewife whose green thumbs have produced colorful backyard garden flowers are particularly invited to enter exhibits in Salem's flower show to be held Aug. 14.

The Salem Garden Club and Garden Study Club are again co-sponsoring the event, to be held this year at the Masonic Temple. Theme of this year's show is "Garden of Friendship."

Officers and committee chairmen, busy now with show arrangements, point out that the average citizen has just as good a chance, and maybe better, as garden club members in winning ribbon awards for flower exhibits and arrangements.

2 Paragraphs Now Hold Up Korean Truce

MUNSAN, Korea (U)—U. N. and Communist staff officers today signified agreement on the wording of all but two paragraphs of a Korean armistice draft. But they didn't tackle the thorny prisoner exchange issue, major obstacle to a truce.

The prisoner issue will be taken up when the main truce negotiations end a week-long recess tomorrow.

Col. Duncan Somerville, U. N. staff officer told newsmen today, "I think we have made some progress in firming up the agreements on all the paragraphs except two." He said the wording of seven disputed sections was worked out in a series of eight meetings.

Somerville added it was possible the staff officers still may agree on the two, dealing with prisoner parole and recommendations to the governments affected after an armistice is signed. The staff officers will meet again tomorrow.

Kelley Park Case To Go Before Jury

No settlement was reached Thursday at a pre-trial hearing before Judge Joel H. Sharp regarding the dispute over the lease to the city of land which comprises Kelley's Memorial Park (West End Park) and the case has been assigned to trial, City Solicitor W. J. Hunston said today.

The meeting was held among city officials and counsel representing Andrew and Catherine Martin and Gus H. and Elfreda Bauman, who leased the land to the city in 1947.

Under the terms of the contract, the city was permitted to lease the land for $1 a year for a five-year period, with the option to purchase the land at any time for $200 or to release the plot at the end of the five years, Mr. Hunston explained.

Last fall, he said, the city attempted to exercise the option of buying the land, but the owners refused to sell for the stipulated price, claiming that a breach had been made in the contract.

Patrol Investigates Two Minor Mishaps

Two minor accidents on district highways were reported today by the State Highway Patrol.

In another accident on Route 90, a car driven by Charles Navarra, 23, of Bessemer, Pa. and a truck driven by Bruce Langley, 28, of Gaines, Mich. collided at 7:45 a.m. Friday.

3 States Added To List Of U.S. Disaster Areas

South, New England Crops Parched By Hot Sun, No Rain

WASHINGTON (U)—Agriculture Department officials today termed the drought in the South and New England one of the most serious economic disasters in the nation's history.

Department officials explored new steps to alleviate the plight of farmers and to save livestock herds.

The states of South Carolina, Massachusetts and Maine and nine more counties in Arkansas were added yesterday to the department's growing list of drought disaster areas.

8 Full States Included

The disaster area designation, which qualifies farmers for federal loans where local credit is unavailable, now applies to eight full states and large areas of Arkansas and Missouri. The other states are Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi and Tennessee.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Knox Hutchinson pledged the full support of the federal government to the drought-stricken region at an emergency nine-state meeting in Nashville, Tenn., yesterday. Emergency action discussed at the meeting will be considered further in Washington.

Railroads to Reduce Rates

Raub Snyder, assistant production and marketing administrator, told the meeting the railroads are expected to announce next week an emergency reduction in rates for hauling hay into the South where pastures have been burned up by the sun. Livestock feeding is a major problem.

The Tennessee agriculture commissioner already was in Wisconsin buying hay for shipment to his state. The first carload left Madison last night for Nashville and nine more carloads are expected to follow.

Reports from the Southern drought area indicated severe losses in corn, truck and garden crops and pastures. Tobacco production was estimated off as much as 30 per cent in some localities and cotton is suffering.

New Building Outlay Record Set In July

WASHINGTON (U)—Dollar outlays for new construction soared to a record $3,069,000,000 in July, exceeding the previous high in June by 89 million dollars.

Private residential building accounted for $1,070,000,000 of the July total, other private construction $983 million, and government counted for $1,007,000,000 of the Commerce and Labor Department, making these estimates yesterday, said builders in general kept going despite the 54-day steel strike by using reserve stocks built up before the mills closed.

Highway construction, however, failed to make its usual seasonal expansion because of steel scarcities in some spots.

Candidates Boss Own Campaigns

Wyatt To Assist Adlai Stevenson

By The Associated Press

Gov. Adlai Stevenson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower have indicated they plan to keep a strong grip on the direction of their campaigns for the presidency.

Gov. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, disclosed yesterday his campaign headquarters will be moved from Washington to Springfield, Ill. He named Wilson Wyatt of Louisville, Ky., as his personal campaign manager.

Ike To Be Boss

Gen. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee, told reporters at Denver that "there can be no boss of this campaign" other than Eisenhower himself. He said the advice of political advisers will get top consideration but the final responsibility is his.

Wyatt said all elements of the campaign "will be co-ordinated with Gov. Stevenson." He explained that this doesn't mean the Democratic National Committee will play a lesser role in the campaign. "It will be a different one," he said.

To Talk With Stevenson

Frank E. McKinney told reporters in Kansas City he did not care to remain as Democratic National Committee chairman. He said he would discuss party affairs with Gov. Stevenson in about a week. The presidential nominee traditionally chooses the man he wants for this post.

In Kansas City, President Truman left it clear that Democratic campaign strategy is up to Stevenson. The President is willing and ready to stump the country. But he is waiting for the Illinois governor to give the word.

Gen. Eisenhower promised a fighting campaign starting about Sept. 1. Eisenhower said he and

Infantry Holds On Despite Red Shelling

SEOUL, Korea (U)—United Nations infantrymen on top of Old Baldy hill Friday night withstood a thunderous shelling and beat back two small Chinese counterattacks.

The Communists hurled more than 3,000 rounds of artillery and mortar shells at the embattled hill west of Chorwon on the Western Front.

The U. S. Eighth Army said U. N. troops twice shoved back 50-man Chinese attacks. Later, a huge searchlight picked up about 35 Chinese trying to sneak through their lines. A staff officer said U. N. artillery killed 20. Machinegunners got seven more.

that for personnel outside the Korean combat theater it is lengthening the time an individual must serve in each grade before he may be promoted.

The minimum amount of service required of a private first class before he may advance to corporal is, in effect, being tripled. And a sergeant first class now may have to remain in that grade at least six times as long as formerly required, before moving up to master sergeant.

Army sources said it may take at least 28 months for the average draftee to graduate from private to sergeant, as against a possible minimum of 10 months heretofore. It would take 40 months, altogether, to go the whole way from private to master sergeant.

This represents a fairly effective barrier for the individual drafted for 24 months of service. The reason, said the Army, is that there are not enough promotions to go around. The solution is to make the few promotions that are available harder to get.

Back of all this are budget restrictions which make it impossible for the Army to be generous in promotions—and pay raises to officers and enlisted men. "Heretofore, the Army has required that a private remain in that grade at least four months. Promotions to other enlisted ranks could come no faster than two months apart."

The new system retains the four-month requirement for privates, but sets these new minimum "periods of service in present grade": private first class, six months; corporal, eight months; sergeant, 10 months; sergeant first class, 12 months.

In addition, it requires that the private perform the duties of private first class at least two months before advancing to that rank. For each step up in grade, an individual must have an added month of preliminary service in the higher position.

The Army said it is setting up a separate, more liberal promotion system for men in combat units in Korea.

Our Churches

Bishop To Speak To Methodists

Dr. Raymond Archer Resided Near Here

Bishop Raymond Archer, formerly of this vicinity, will be speaker at the 10:55 a. m. service Sunday at the First Methodist Church.

Once Methodist bishop of southeast Asia for a short time, Dr. Archer returned to the United States early in March. After attending the Methodist General Conference in San Francisco, the Jurisdictional Conference in Denver and a conference at Lake Junaluska, N. C., he had speaking engagements in New England.

He was born in West Virginia 62 years ago, the son of a farmer. His family lived for several years on a farm just north of Washingtonville at the time Rev. Clare Davis was pastor there. Bishop Archer's sister, Mary, married Dewey Bush of Greenford.

In 1911 Dr. Archer sailed for a mission field in Batavia. He was in Java and Sumatra until 1923 and, for a time, he was U. S. vice consul in Medan.

The U. S. depression of 1929 hit missionary work, and Dr. Archer returned home and went to Hartford where he read for his doctor of philosophy degree.

In 1933 he was back in Singapore. Dr. and Mrs. Archer left Singapore in January of 1942 for Batavia. While driving to the docks, they were caught in a heavy raid in which their car was burned and their driver killed. Unable to continue his work in Singapore, Mr. Archer and his wife returned home by way of Java and Australia.

Back in the United States, Dr. Archer's wide knowledge of the Far East was placed at the disposal of the Office of Strategic Services. He, became assistant treasurer and later associate secretary of the Methodist Church Board of Missions.

The call then came for him to return to the Far East once more, with the possibility of becoming bishop. Bishop and Mrs. Archer will soon be returning to southeast Asia where he will direct the work of the Methodist Church.

Dr. Archer has this message about the future:

"A heavy responsibility rests on Christian leaders—and on the leaders of other faiths—to emphasize the dignity of the human life and spirit against the materialism of Communism where life is cheap and the human spirit counts for nothing."

Organist at the service will be Mrs. Walter J. Hunston. Guest soloist, Mrs. Howard Wilhelm of East Palestine, will sing "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains."

Senior Youth Fellowship members who will attend Camp Aldersgate at Leesville Lake next week will be Lois Getz, Connie Gillett, Janice Groves, William Nyberg, Frank Stoerkel, Nick Buta, Duane Bates and Robert Hooley.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Work Well Easily

Do you know how to work well? He will enjoy his work and peacefully? This is an important question, for the person who does his work the easiest does it the best.

There is a basic harmony in the world and in you. If you are in tune with this harmony, you are, as the saying goes, "on the beam." So, you should learn to practice one of the great skills of living, namely, the art of "easy does it."

Dr. Peale

Recently on the campus of Lafayette College, I saw workmen laying up a beautiful brick wall. Attached to the wall was a large sign which the contractor, a firm by the name of Lehr, had placed there. It read as follows: "Swing and sway the Lehr way—for better brick work."

I became interested and asked the foreman, a friendly man, to explain the sign. He explained that, to be a good bricklayer, the workman had to get into the rhythm—pick up a brick, lay a brick, pick up a brick, lay a brick—and to do it without jerking and in a smooth, flowing and rhythmic manner.

THEN HE ADDED, "The workman who is able to harmonize himself to an easy flow in his operation not only lays brick well, but he can lay more brick and is not tired at the end of the day. He has energy to spare. On the other hand, the workman who resists the job, who does not get into the easy flow, expends unnecessary energy, wears himself out, and is tired at the end of the day. And his work is likely to be of an inferior grade."

This incident reminded me of my friend, Mason Roberts, vice-president of the General Motors Corporation and General Manager of its Frigidaire Division at Dayton, Ohio, who says that the best workman is the man who gets into harmony with the machine which he operates. "A machine," he points out, "is made up of component parts which work together on the rhythmic laws of the universe. The best machine is one in which there is the least resistance in the working parts. The more, therefore, that a machine is in harmony with God's universe, the more effective it is and the longer it will last."

A HUMAN BEING also is effective to the degree to which he eliminates resistance and lives and works in the flow of God's creative and renewing energy. If a workman is in harmony with God and his machine and works in tune with both, at the end of the day he will have energy left over.

Hanoverton Presbyterian Church

Hanoverton Presbyterians Observe Church's 50th Year

By ELINOR CURRIER

August is the month of the 50th anniversary of the completion of the present church housing the congregation of the Hanoverton Presbyterian Church.

The original church organization dates back to 1830 and Rev. James Robertson was the first stated pastor. Rev. Ashley Wilson is the present pastor.

Rev. Robertson, who came with his wife from Scotland to America in 1813, preached in the village prior to the building of a church. The first church edifice was a frame structure built on a hill overlooking the village.

In 1841 it was decided to build a brick church in the southeastern part of town but, because of the swampy condition of the ground, the walls cracked before the building was completed. A new site was selected on the hill in the northeast section of town.

The building was completed in 1843 and the congregation worshipped there until 1900 when the church pictured above was erected and completed by 1902.

Ministers serving the pastorate following Rev. Robertson have been Rev. Robert Dickson, Rev. Dalzell Carson, Rev. Robert Johnston, Rev. J. R. Dundass, Rev. R. B. Love, Rev. Miller, Rev. Boyd, Rev. J. F. Elder, Rev. J. F. Kirkbride, Rev. W. L. Swan, Rev. R. C. Townsend and Rev. Hughes.

Rev. Ashley Wilson was the next pastor in succession and he served from 1912 to 1916, then in 1945, when the church again needed a pastor, Mr. Wilson served in a supply capacity and continues in that position today.

For many years the church was grouped—first with Bethesda until 1903, then with Homeworth from 1903 to 1913, and finally with Augusta from 1913 to 1922. From this date the congregation resolved to call a pastor for full-time work.

Rev. S. S. Snyder served from 1922 to 1924 and the pulpit was vacant until 1926 when Rev. R. J. Roberts was called. He resigned due to age April 27, 1930. Other pastors in succession were J. F. Kirkbride (1934-37) and Rev. H. L. Rickert (1937-44).

When Rev. Wilson assumed his duties in February of 1945, he was restricted to part-time preaching but later took over full-time pastoral duties.

In 1949 the church purchased a house and lot from Dr. H. J. Pelley to be used as a manse when a full-time pastor is called at some future date. Recent improvements to the church property include excavation for a kitchen and dining room. Further improvement is contemplated.

The church cooperates with the Hanoverton Christian Church in an annual daily vacation Bible school. The present membership is over 200, with a Sunday School membership of 135. The Women's Missionary Society is highly active and, through the efforts of the women, the benevolent giving of the church has been increased.

Present officers of the church, besides Rev. Wilson who serves as moderator, include: Elders, E. E. Bower, Ernest Moser, H. A. Raley, George Devitt, W. J. Hays, and Paul Palmer; trustees, J. A. Marquis, Kenneth Pollock, Leroy Reeder, Roy Hull, Howard Blanchard and William Eckman.

Ben Weizenecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Weizenecker of South Johnson Rd., has been accepted as a student at Miami University in Oxford. Weizenecker graduated from McKinley High School in Sebring and is planning an engineering career.

Mrs. George Thompson left Wednesday for Hollow Rock Camp Meeting where she will be the head cook. The Camp is near East Liverpool.

A Men and Missions meeting was held recently at the Sylvester Naylor home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cristy entertained for his mother, Mrs. James Cristy, in observance of her 75th birthday Sunday.

A Hymn Is Born

BY CLINT BONNER

A missionary hymn is made popular by a secular tune

Like his English predecessor, William Carey, American pioneer Baptist missionary Adoniram Judson had to light his own lamp and find his own path. A century and a half ago Protestant foreign missions was in its infancy and Judson worked in Burma for 15 years before he saw light on the horizon. But by 1829 Judson had built a school and a church, converts began coming in and the courageous missionary reported "The Light is Breaking."

While Judson was in Burma, Boston's Harvard graduate Samuel Francis Smith was studying for the ministry at Andover Theological Seminary. Smith knew half a dozen languages, could write poetry and was engrossed in the foreign missions movement. While translating a stack of foreign songs for Choir Director Lowell Mason, student Smith had come across a German tune he liked and wrote some verses for it and started America to sing "My Country 'Tis of Thee." That was in February, 1832. That same month Linquist Smith read Missionary Judson's report and wrote a poem about the light breaking in the foreign missions field.

While all that was going on George James Webb, musician son of a wealthy farmer in Salisbury, England, sailed for America to cast his lot at writing music. To pass time on the old windjammer, Webb wrote a secular number called "Tis Dawn, the Lark is Singing." He had no more intention of composing a hymn tune than he had of swimming the Atlantic.

Samuel Smith's missionary hymn was sung to various tunes for nearly 30 years. Then, in 1861, it was published to the tune George Webb had written on board the boat. It became so popular that three years later soldiers of the Union Army began singing the recently written "Stand Up for Jesus" to the same music and both hymns have been sung to Webb's secular tune ever since.

Samuel Smith was never a missionary, though his son was. He edited the Baptist Missionary Magazine for 15 years and was secretary of the Baptist Missionary Union. At 86 he had learned 15 languages and started studying another. Boarding a train in Boston in 1895, when he was 87, Dr. Smith died before the train left the station. Of his 150 hymns his best was inspired by Missionary Judson's report about the light breaking in Burma, but it is sung to music written for a song about a lark. Here are Smith's words . . .

The morning light is breaking,
The darkness disappears;
The sons of earth are waking
To penitential tears.
Each breeze that sweeps the ocean
Brings tidings from afar
Of nations in commotion,
Prepared for Zion's war.

See heathen nations bending
Before the God of love,
And thousand hearts ascending
In gratitude above;
While sinners, now confessing,
The gospel call obey,
And seek a Saviour's blessing,
A nation in a day.

Blest river of salvation,
Pursue thine onward way;
Flow thou to every nation,
Nor in thy richness stay;
Stay not till all the lowly
Triumphant reach their home;
Stay not till all the holy Proclaim, "The Lord is come!"

Rich dew of grace come o'er us
In many a gentle shower,
And brighter scenes before us
Are opening every hour.
Each cry to heaven going,
Abundant answer brings
And heavenly gales are blowing,
With peace upon their wings.
(Samuel Francis Smith, 1832)

Roving Reports By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The Korean war is well into its third year and the millionth draftee is now in service.

Month by month this faraway conflict has touched more and more lives, affected more and more American families.

It has cost more than 113,000 casualties. It has been raised as a major political issue.

Yet it remains "the forgotten war," the war that almost no one knows except the men who fight it. It is as if Korea were upon another planet, or as if there were a conspiracy of silence against it — "if we don't mention the war, it will just go away."

Unfortunately, it is a war that won't go away, and America may still have men stationed on a battlefield in Korea after it inducts its second millionth draftee.

The odd thing about the Korean combat picture is that the morale of the American fighting man has picked up, while interest at home has steadily waned.

"Why are we in Korea at all?" Ask the average man in the street that question, and he might be hard put for an answer.

But the American soldier in Korea now has a pretty good idea why he is there.

Take Pfc. George Whitenour, for example. He is a member of the St. Barnabas Lutheran Church in Queens. So is John R. Crooks, a veteran newspaper librarian.

Some time ago Crooks, who is 63, decided to put out a one-man newspaper for the members of the church who are in the armed service. His gossip news sheet now circulates to 70 young soldiers, sailors and airmen scattered around the world. It knits them to their old home neighborhood.

Recently, Pfc. Whitenour wrote a letter of gratitude from Korea, and this is what he said:

"We have church services over here in our mess tent, and they sure give a lift to the boys' morale. But I miss St. Barnabas; it is a beautiful church.

"As yet I am not right up at the front or in any danger at present. I'm not really hunting the Reds too much. I'm glad that I don't have to use a weapon against anyone. And I'm sorry that the other boys have to.

"But if the war isn't fought here it might have to be fought back in the states.

"The Korean people are not really as bad as some people would lead you to believe. Some of these people were just content to live their own lives, tending to their gardens, building homes and leading an ordinary life. But some of the big wise guys had to think

SYMBOL OF SAFETY

You never mistake the meaning of a Church spire.

Even to those who are cold to the ideals for which the Church stands, that finger of faith always points to something that is comforting, reassuring, safe.

The very presence of a Church, whether in a crowded city street or on a quiet country road, is a benediction to all, including those who are not conscious of worship.

Such an influence, with what it means to those who open their hearts to truth, is worthy of a second thought.
It merits acceptance as a refuge. It commands confidence as a port in time of storm.

The Church deserves your support—your membership—because it affords real protection for the family whose welfare it is your duty to defend and whose proper upbringing is your solemn obligation.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Campaign Strategy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Candidates Take This Month To Map Plans

The presidential campaign will not become active until September. Both candidates have been advised that, with television and radio, in a long campaign they can easily wear themselves out both as to faces and voices and that the short and intensive type of effort is much to be preferred this year to the long-drawn-out pattern of other presidential years.

This doesn't mean that speech-making will be omitted during August. Now and then speeches will be made, but the touring and cross-country speaking trips will not materialize until the last six weeks of the campaign. In all probability both Governor Stevenson and General Eisenhower will make transcontinental journeys.

It is significant that, notwithstanding the television and radio coverage, the candidates will attempt to visit as many states as possible. This is because, despite recent inventions, the people like to see in person the prominent men of the campaign.

ANOTHER REASON for deferring the intensive part of the campaign till September is that much preliminary work has yet to be done by each candidate. The organization of a national headquarters, with a staff to devote its time to special phases of the campaign, is something that takes up a lot of the candidate's attention at the very start.

Right now each candidate is being given advice on what kind of strategy to pursue. The theory that all a nominee has to do is attack the other fellow has not proved successful. Affirmative expression of doctrine is as important as attack on the opposite party.

This campaign is unique because it is the first one in 24 years in which a president of the United States has not been on one or the other of the two major party tickets. This has been a disadvantage in some respects to the candidate who has been opposing a president, as the latter always gets better attention because of the prestige of his office.

But it is also a disadvantage to the nominee who is running on the ticket of a retiring president because he is usually not as familiar with the points of attack made against the existing administration as the president himself would be.

GOVERNOR STEVENSON will enjoy the unique advantage or disadvantage—it remains to be seen which it is—of having the incumbent President go on the stump for him. The governor has hinted that he will control the extent of Mr. Truman's participation. Just what this means is not clear, for obviously the Illinois governor would not wish it to be inferred that he thinks Mr. Truman's presence in some states would be politically injurious. Perhaps he had the South in mind, for a Truman stumping trip in that area would inflame the southerners rather than win them to enthusiastic support of the Democratic ticket.

But there is no reason why President Truman shouldn't express himself freely no matter how few speeches he is asked to make. For, after all, Mr. Stevenson and the Democratic platform lauded the Truman record to the skies, and it will be embarrassing for the nominee to imply that he doesn't think this enthusiasm was warranted.

There are some observers who are saying already that Governor Stevenson intends to disassociate himself from the Truman policies in order to win independent Republican votes. But, if he does, he may cause a stay-at-home vote in other Democratic areas. The "civil rights" question is a case in point. The more Mr. Truman argues that the 1952 plank on civil rights means as much as the 1948 plank, the more controversy he stirs up.

SENATOR ROBERTSON, the very able junior senator from Virginia, has just announced he will support Governor Stevenson because he thinks the 1952 platform plank on "civil rights" is less objectionable than the one adopted by the 1948 convention.

Sooner or later these variations in meaning will have to be cleared up and, when that occurs, either President Truman will have to become the object of a bit of "thought control" in order to preserve harmony in the party or else he will have to avoid mentioning subjects that could lose votes for Governor Stevenson.

One imagines, for instance, that President Truman will not discuss "inherent powers" such as he exercised when he seized the steel industry and one imagines President will not argue that the Taft-Hartley Act should be "repealed" now that Governor Stevenson says it should be "re-written" instead of repealed.

It takes time to straighten out all these things before the campaign really opens in September, and that's what they will be doing in August.

Eisenhower's Campaign

By RAYMOND MOLEY

A man who visited Eisenhower last year reported that the general would probably, as president, emulate Theodore Roosevelt. That is well and good.

But as a campaigner, he might well study the methods of the more recent Roosevelt. The role of a candidate differs vastly from that of a president. And now that Eisenhower is planning his campaign and organizing his staff of advisors, he might well keep in mind the general system that served Franklin Roosevelt so well in four successful presidential campaigns.

The first principle followed by that master politician was to keep sharply separated those members of the working staff who were concerned with political organization from those who were working on public policies that were to be incorporated in speeches and other means of persuading voters.

The latter group, it will be recalled, was described in Roosevelt's first campaign by the rather clumsy title, "brains trust." The former was the group headed by the national chairman. In 1932 the national chairman was James A. Farley.

Each group was entirely independent of the other. In fact, to sharpen their separation they occupied offices in different hotels. The head and only the head of each group reported directly to Roosevelt.

They remained entirely friendly with each other, no doubt because their concerns never conflicted. Farley continued through 1936 and Edward J. Flynn succeeded him in 1940. The late Robert Hannegan was chairman in 1944. In 1936 and thereafter, Judge Samuel I. Rosenman was boss of the "brains trust." This principle of separation was always respected by Roosevelt. It will save Eisenhower endless troubles and possibly disaster if he will establish it as a first step.

As a second step, it should be made clear that the policy group should have a head who will be the chief if not the sole contact with the candidate. To have a group of advisers whose views may differ widely, all trying to sell their wares to the candidate, will result in so confusing him that he will, in his statements and speeches, lose all force and conviction.

When a speech or public document is created through a discussion by many people, it usually ends up as the least common denominator of all. Each person will object to something, and, to harmonize matters, that something will be omitted. In the end, the document or speech will lose all punch and bite.

Something of this must have happened in some of the pre-convention speeches by Eisenhower. It was especially true of the speech intended for delivery in Detroit. At that time, there were apparently three competing documents, and finally Eisenhower in exasperation threw them all out and spoke "off the cuff."

The head of the group must take the ideas of everyone and organize and select what seems best to him. Then he, and he alone, must spend hours over the preparation of the speech with the candidate. The result will not be a crude, ghost-written speech, but a message which is truly an expression of the candidate's own convictions.

This was the way Roosevelt worked. And this method had the supreme virtue. It passed the pragmatic test. It won elections. Eisenhower can win this election. But his organization must be workable and competent. He cannot win it alone.

Daniel Carter Beard, founder of the Boy Scouts of America, was born in Cincinnati June 21, 1850.

Socialized Medicine By Treaty

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

At the meeting of the international labor organization in Geneva, Switzerland, in June, a convention entitled, "minimum standards of social security" was passed. This convention was submitted to 65 countries, including the United States, for ratification.

Once ratified by any country, the convention becomes a treaty binding that country to its provisions.

Under the American constitution, if two-thirds of the members of the United States Senate present ratify such a convention, it becomes the law of the land, taking precedence over any domestic law passed by Congress or by any state legislature. The United Nations and an increasing number of international organizations, passing conventions and covenants, are really legislating for the American people without their knowledge of what is being done to them.

THIS CONVENTION establishes universal socialized medicine.

Part II of the convention contains the following provision:

"Each member for which this part of this convention is in force shall secure to the persons protected the provision of benefit in respect of a condition requiring medical care of a preventive or curative nature in accordance with the following articles of this part."

"The contingencies covered shall include any morbid condition, whatever its cause, and pregnancy and confinement and their consequences."

Also, "1.—The benefit shall include at least:

(A) In case of a morbid condition:
(I) General practitioner care, including domiciliary visiting;
(II) Specialist care at hospitals for in-patients and out-patients, and such specialist care as may be available outside hospitals;

(III) The essential pharmaceutical supplies as prescribed by medical or other qualified practitioners; and

(IV) Hospitalization where necessary; and

(B) In case of pregnancy and confinement and their consequences—

(I) Pre-natal, confinement and post-natal care either by medical practitioners or by qualified midwives; and

(II) Hospitalization where necessary.

"2.—The beneficiary or his breadwinner may be required to share in the cost of the medical care the beneficiary receives in respect to a morbid condition; the rules concerning such cost-sharing shall be so designed as to avoid hardship.

"3.—The benefit provided in accordance with this article shall be afforded with a view to maintaining, restoring or improving the health of the person protected and his ability to work and to attend to his personal needs.

"4.—The institutions or government departments administering the benefit shall, by such means as may be deemed appropriate, encourage the persons protected to avail themselves of the general health services placed at their disposal by the public authorities or by other bodies recognized by the public authorities."

THIS IS state medicine. The document is a long one and I can here quote no more, but it is clear that should the United States ratify this convention, government hospitalization, government-controlled attendance of physicians, and government-provided medication would be required by law. Oscar Ewing's measures, which Congress has rejected, would become law, without an act of Congress so providing, but by the ratification of a treaty, the title of which does not indicate its nature. It could be passed without Senators even reading it.

Doctors from all over the world objected to these provisions. Leonard Calhoun, an American member, said before the final vote:

"Since personal freedom and a sense of personal responsibility are part and parcel of our way of life, we are opposed in principle to the regulations of the proposed social security convention which would provide for what we employers, in our country at least, term socialized medicine. On this ground alone we would have to vote against this proposed instrument. I believe that the great majority of the people of the United States believe that an important part of our freedom is the freedom of the individual, both as a patient and as a physician."

HOWEVER, most of the American government delegates followed the lead of the labor delegates in voting for socialized medicine. Their argument seemed to be that if they voted differently, they would be accused of being personally anti-labor.

This measure may come before the Senate at its next session and requires scrupulous scrutiny and fearless opposition.

No Hope Anywhere

By TRUMAN TWILL

The man at the other end of the telephone conversation was being firm about his gritty conviction that everything in this country was being done wrong.

He was not content to settle for the ordinary list of blunders—the kind used by most of us in arguments about politics. Everything—but everything—was wrong, he repeated testily. Moreover, it had been wrong during his entire life, which was 60-odd years.

But, we queried mildly, if everything has been wrong that long what have been accomplishing? Surely someone must have been doing a few things right in all that time or we'd have gone down the drain.

The suggestion was rejected. All further suggestions were rejected, until the conversation was terminated on the assumption it was futile to keep on talking to anyone who had found fault with everything for more than half a century.

The significance of this then began to swim into sharp perspective. This particular caller who wanted to tell someone in a newspaper office how bad things were and had been as long as he could remember was typical of many others who feel the same way but don't pop off quite so vehemently.

Recently, in the course of following party lines in the quadrennial conventions of the two major political organizations, millions of Americans heard supposedly rational men say nothing had been done right, except when their party was in power.

The Republicans asserted that everything had been done wrong for the last 20 years. The Democrats, more comprehensive in their appraisal of national failure, claimed nothing had been done right since the Civil War, except during the administrations of Grover Cleveland, Woodrow Wilson, F. D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman—less than half the time since the Civil War.

It is no trouble to find a red-hot who will tell you that everything—but everything—is wrong with some aspect of American society in which he has a special interest. Industrial strife is the only excuse needed to stimulate hundreds of thousands of Americans to make wild and extravagant indictments against the chronic viciousness, stupidity, avarice and hypocrisy of both real and imagined adversaries in the production of goods. The same goes for agriculture.

The younger generation is everlastingly going to seed. The country is perennially going to ruin. Apprehensive patriots are forever wringing their hands and moaning they don't know what things are going to come to next, for pity's sake.

The man at the other end of the telephone conversation who found fault with everything that had happened in his lifetime was typical. He was sidetracked and given time to cool off; he obviously was too hot to handle. And the reason for telling about the incident is that the next day another telephone call conveyed the information that his illness had made him a problem to his family and please make allowances if he went overboard again.

How are you feeling—in case you see nothing being done right any more?

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

What's That, Again?

Many voters are beginning to wonder whether, if he wins the presidency of the United States, Adlai Stevenson may not precede his inaugural with a statement that the condemned man ate a hearty meal, forgave everybody and said, "I will walk to the White House unassisted and in full confidence of my innocence." It is all right to be humble, cognizant of the great responsibility, and fearful whether any man can fill the bill, but in all statements so far, Adlai has indicated he wasn't sure whether there was much difference being nominated for the presidency and getting tapped for a leap from a free balloon without a parachute.

In some interviews and speeches he has indicated a belief that the White House meant a strenuous schooling for the hero's role in "The Count of Monte Cristo," with matinee performances in the famous "It is a far far better thing that I do" scene by Sydney Carton, in "A Tale of Two Cities." Men have gone to the gallows and women to the block with fewer expressions of despair than Adlai has expressed in winning a place on an election banner. Nathan Hale wasn't half so depressed.

IN A RECENT SPEECH he talked about "the salt mines." There is more than a chance that Adlai is creating in the public eye the picture of a nominee who loathes the job, regards it as an indeterminate sentence to the gallies and thinks the whole situation was covered in "Crime and Punishment." He is spreading the idea that the presidency is an assignment to sleep on a bed of spikes. He sounds too much like a man who interprets the nomination as a public announcement that he has just won first place in the great "Over Niagara Falls Without a Barrel" contest. Top members of his own party are getting alarmed. They don't want American voters getting the idea they are running Steve Brody, the famous Brooklyn Bridge jumper, for the presidency.

Everybody approves of modesty. It's a relief to see a public man get away from the cockiness of the "I can lick any guy in the house" mood. But doesn't Adlai carry it too far? The fight is on and is going to be a knock-down-drag-out shindig. Ike Eisenhower is a humble man of top spiritual qualities, too, but he is going to come out swinging. And he isn't indicating that he thinks he "should of stood in bed."

Come on, Adlai; if the campaign is going to be good fun you've got to begin yelling. "This is great stuff! Up with your mitts, kid! I'm swinging from the floor!"

VIDEO AND RADIO list losses of three and a half million dollars covering the conventions, thus proving it is hard to make a profit in natural gas in view of all the year-around competition. . . . You can no longer say that Governor Shivers of Texas is no great shakes. . . . Video and radio are glad they didn't get the Marciano-Matthews fight, as there wasn't even time for a commercial. . . . The office Democrat says that if his party wins in November the successor to the "I Like Ike" buttons will be "I Had Ad." . . . ON THE CAMPUS this Fall, these are the hat styles that male students will favor most. For spectator sportswear (upper left), there's a tyrolean felt with contrasting narrow band and small feather. The wool cap stages a comeback (lower left) and is shown here in a checked design. It's styled with less brim. Deerstalker (above) is borrowed from Sherlock Holmes, looks well on a college student, too. The new, narrow brim appears (upper right) in a felt hat with center crease. Rough, tweedy mixture makes a second tyrolean hat (lower right). This one with rope band. It's ideal for wear with sports jacket and slacks.

Radio, TV Notebook

By SYD KRONISH

NEW YORK (AP)—She's one of the most important personages in television, yet no one sees her at her trade. She's young, pretty, curvaceous and pulls some mighty important strings.

Rhoda Mann, 24-year-old New Yorker, is the guiding hand of the popular puppet Howdy Doody. Out of sight to televisioners, Rhoda deftly manipulates Howdy's every movement. She has been performing these artistic chores ever since the program started in December, 1947.

She doesn't make Howdy talk, however. Bob Smith, originator of Howdy, does that.

Rhoda became interested in marionettes and puppets when she was 10 years old.

Always possessing a flair for the dramatic, Rhoda studied acting, singing and dancing and yearns someday to do a musical comedy on the Broadway stage—if Howdy will let her.

When Howdy Doody started on television almost five years ago, Rhoda was one of the original "behind-the-scenes" cast. The show then was called "Puppet Playhouse" but soon was switched to Howdy Doody.

Rhoda loves Howdy and sometimes feels that he's a real person. Some of the parents in the studio audience are surprised to see a girl manipulating Howdy. Some of the younger kids look up at Rhoda and exclaim "That's Howdy Doody's mommy!"

Robert Q. Lewis will replace Arthur Godfrey on the latter's CBS morning radio-TV program starting Monday. This will be the sixth successive year for Lewis as Godfrey's substitute. The bespectacled one will continue with his "Waxworks" disc jockey program over CBS and as moderator of "The Name's the Same" over ABC-TV.

Doby's Tenth Inning Homer Gives Tribe 6-5 Win Over A's

Giants Seem To Have Found Replacement For Mays; Now Just Five Games Behind Bums

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rookie Jim (Dusty) Rhodes looks like the man the New York Giants have been waiting for since Willie Mays marched off to the Army. With seven home runs in 10 games at the Polo Grounds, the Nashville grad gives Manager Leo Durocher needed strength in the outfield to help the club's latest drive on the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

With Rhodes a fixture in left, and Monte Irvin back in right field, Durocher made the final move to tighten his outer defense Friday night when he shifted Bobby Thomson from third base to center field. Hank Thompson moved from center back to his old third base job.

The Bobby Thomson - Hank Thompson shakeup didn't click when Durocher tried desperately to fill the hole left by Mays on the June weekend swing. Hank flourished at third, prompting Leo to restore his "regular" infield.

Leo's latest "operation shake-up" produced the desired result. Irvin, making his first appearance in the starting lineup since he broke his right ankle in a spring exhibition, drove home the first run in a four-run explosion against Pittsburgh's Harry Fisher, in the first inning. Rhodes smashed a three-run homer and the Giants were off and running, enroute to a 7-3 victory.

The Giants, who have missed many chances to gain on Brooklyn during the past week, picked up a full game when the Dodgers lost to Chicago, 6-1. New York now trails by five games.

Preacher Roe lost after seven straight 1952 wins, bowing to Bob Rush.

The Cubs chased "The Preach" in the fifth when they ran their lead to 3-0. Hank Sauer's 26th homer with two men on base in the seventh came off rookie Ray Moore, just up from St. Paul.

St. Louis slugged a parade of Philadelphia pitchers for 14 hits and a 10-5 decision to end the Phils' six-game win string. Four runs in a ninth-inning spurt that included triples by Stan Musial and Solly Hemus and a two-run homer by Enos Slaughter nailed down the win.

Max Surkont threw two wild pitches to batter Andy Seminick in the ninth to give Cincinnati the first run of the ball game. Eddie Pellagrini's single scored the second to make it 2-0 for the Reds' Kenny Raffensberger over Boston.

Old Satchel Paige helped the St. Louis Browns tighten the American League race by dumping the front-running New York Yankees, 2-1. Clint Courtney, ex-Yank farmhand, drove in both runs with a homer and single as Allie Reynolds was knocked out. Paige came on the scene after the Yanks scored one run off Gene Bearden and had the bases loaded with two out in the seventh. He blanked the Yanks on one hit the rest of the way.

The Yanks loss and Cleveland's 6-5 triumph over Philadelphia on strokes ahead of Betty Jamsen.

Larry Doby's 10th inning home run, reduced New York's American League lead to two games. Doby knocked in two runs earlier with a double and single. His 21st homer came on the first pitch by loser Bob Hooper. Gus Zernial's grand-slam homer had tied the score for the A's in the ninth.

Mel Parnell, blazing hot since he rejoined the Boston Red Sox after his recovery from bursitis, set down Detroit with eight hits, 3-1. The stylist lefty has won four of five in the last month.

Boston pulled within 3½ games of the Yanks and fourth place Washington was only 4½ back after the Senators' 3-1 victory over Chicago. Walt Masterson shut out the White Sox until the seventh when Tommy Wright's pinch triple scored Darrel Johnson.

Sammy Sneed Praised; Tops Golf Tourney

CHICAGO (AP) — "Sam Sneed is like a race horse in a field of plough horses," said Buck White, the sage of Greenwood, Miss., who has been playing golf as a pro for 27 years.

"Yep, that Sneed is the greatest player in the world," he continued as head of the court in Tam O'Shanter's locker rooms. "That isn't saying he's the best golfer—there's a difference—because maybe Ben Hogan (not entered at Tam) holds that honor."

"But nobody has as sweet a swing as Sneed."

Proving the praise, Sneed fired a remarkable 65 yesterday, seven under par despite 32 putts, to leap in front by five strokes at the 36-hole juncture of the $30,000 All-American Tournament.

He tacked his 65 on to an opening 67 for a 132 total to keep up a pace that could shatter the record Tam O'Shanter 72-hole tournament score of 269—19 under regulation—set by Byron Nelson in 1945.

It was Sneed's best start in a Tam tournament and his most sizzling stride of the year after winning the Masters' title in April at Augusta, Ga., but flopping in the National Open and National PGA.

Trailing Sneed into the third round with 137's were Tommy Bolt, Durh. m. N.C., with a second round 68; Cary Middlecoff, the leading money winner and All-American defending champion, with a 69; and a former Texas amateur star, Iverson Martin, now of Maplewood, N.J., with 68.

Jim McKeighen, a steel worker from Hobart, Ind., and former university of Miami student, topped the All-American amateur division with 145 after the first round leader and defending champion, Frank Stranahan, faded to an 83 for 153.

Louise Suggs of Atlanta, the 1952 Women's National Open winner, led her bracket with 150, three strokes ahead of Betty Jamsen.

Cleveland Gains Game On Yanks

Now Two Games Out; Wynn Pitching Today

CLEVELAND (AP) — Just two games off the pace, the Cleveland Indians send Early Wynn to the mound today for another whack at Philadelphia. After what Larry Doby did Friday night, anything could happen.

Wynn, out for his 13th win, will be opposed by a rookie right-hander, Harry Byrd. The last time anyone beat Wynn was on July 10, when the A's Alex Kellner did it. Wynn's eight losses also include one to Bobby Shantz, but he has beaten Shantz once this season.

Doby's home run, with one out in the tenth inning, was the payoff in Friday night's contest, giving the Indians a 6-5 win. As St. Louis downed the New York Yankees, the Tribe moved within a pair of games of the league leaders.

And that was Doby's 21st round tripper of the season, tying him with Yogi Berra of the Yankees for the American League lead. It also put him three up on third sacker Al Rosen. Doby also has passed Rosen in runs batted in, 68 to 66.

Big Gus Zernial was the villain of the ninth inning. Mike Garcia was within one out of his 15th win of the season, and it looked like a 5-0 whitewash.

Ray Murray, a former Cleveland catcher, singled. After pinch hitter Allie Clark fanned, Eddie Joost singled and Ferris Fain drew a walk. Dave Philley came up with an infield single, scoring Murray. Then with the bases still loaded, Zernial lofted a 3 and 1 pitch over the left field fence, his 17th homer of the year.

Lou Brissie, who retired three men in the tenth, was the winner. Bob Hooper, who fanned three in a row in the last of the ninth and retired Bob Avila on a grounder at the start of the tenth, was the loser.

Salem Tool Whips Leetonia, 5-4; Sears, Rufers Also Gain Victories

Still marting from their 8-4 loss to Sears Tuesday night, Leetonia, winners of 11 straight games before tasting defeat, lost their second game in a row last night at the hands of Salem Tool, 5-4, in one of three Class A League games played at Kelley Park.

The game was a tight affair all the way and the Tool nine had to come from behind after dropping back on the short end of a 4-2 score in the fourth inning. The Toolers tallied a run in the bottom of the fourth frame to lead off the scoring of the game but Leetonia deadlocked the count at one apiece in the top of the second frame.

Again the Tool outfit took a one run lead in the bottom of the third but Leetonia came up with a big three runs in the top of the fourth frame to lead, 4-2.

Both teams went scoreless in the fifth frame but in the bottom of the sixth inning two walks, an error on a long fly call and a base hit provided the Salem Tool with three runs and a 5-4 lead. Leetonia was held scoreless in the top of the seventh frame and the Tool nine carried off the victory.

Bill Herman started the game on the mound for the winners and was relieved in the fifth inning by Leo Kline. Herman allowed the Leetonia nine two hits while Kline hid them to a single base hit for a total three-hit victory. Jack Altomare yielded just four hits to the Toolers.

Tom Pastier led the winners with two base hits and a long fly in the sixth inning which drove in two runs when the left fielder bobbled the ball. Joe Billett also had two hits for three trips, a double and a single for the losers.

Great Unrest Among N. Korean People Told By Missionary

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—The Rev. Lee Myung Je, a Methodist missionary who lately arrived here from Communist North Korea, said today there is great unrest among the people of the Red country to the north.

The missionary told The Associated Press in an interview that Communist soldiers have virtually lost their war in Korea because the Red soldiers have no morale to fight and North Korea masses have turned against the regime of Gen. Kim Il Sung.

Farmers bitterly complain that high handed Communists have been taking away practically all grains and are imposing taxes of 50 per cent, the missionary stated.

He said that from May to the middle of June there was a continuous moving of Chinese troops northward through Pyongyang. The Chinese were marching in groups, blowing horns and beating drums. Most of them looked tired, he said, and few had rifles. For the first few weeks they moved in darkness but later marched in daylight as well.

The missionary said the Yunan area on the Western Front was emptied of population by Chinese troops and that only North Korean "farmer troops" were doing farm work. Chinese troops moving out of the Yunan area could be seen until recently and no replacements came in, he stated.

Police Quell Prison Riot In Montreal

MONTREAL (AP)—Police used tear gas and gunfire early today to quell a riot of hundreds of prisoners in Montreal's Bordeaux jail. It was the third disorder in the prison in three months, and like the others was in protest over food.

At least 12 prisoners were injured, two of them by gunfire, and Chief Emile Drapeau of the Montreal fire department—which was called in to help smash the meeting—was treated in a hospital for injuries he reportedly suffered when a prisoner struck him with an iron bar.

Police officials, still refusing to disclose the details of what went on inside the prison, denied published reports one of two gunshots victims had died. The police said they fired pistols over the heads of the rioters.

An estimated 700 convicts broke out of their cell blocks early Friday night, set 17 fires, looted the prison canteen, broke plumbing to flood the floors and then clashed with 200 police in a bloody battle in the main prison courtyard.

District Man Cited For Sunday Liquor Sales

John M. Patrick of RD 1, New Waterford will receive a hearing Wednesday before the Ohio Board of Liquor Control on a charge of Sunday sales. The hearing is one of 27 alleged violations of the liquor laws to be heard by the board next week.

BROTHER SUCUMB

Mrs. John Smeltz of 792 E. Sixth St. has been notified of the death of her brother, Don Hardie, at Miami, Fla., Friday. Mrs. Smeltz returned recently from a visit with him.

Civil Rights

York and Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and other Northern Democrats insist the new platform is much stronger.

They argue that the pledge to improve congressional lawmaking machinery amounts to a promise to end Senate filibusters, or at least try to change Senate rules to accomplish this.

Caught in the middle of this political tug-of-war is Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, who won the Democratic vice presidential nomination after helping shape the platform compromises.

Without detailing his view on civil rights or related issues, Sparkman said it is his "firm conviction that our platform provides a program on which we can wage our campaign and win."

German Reds May Invade West Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Tension mounted in divided Berlin today as West Berlin police alerted riot squads to combat a threatened invasion of western sectors Sunday by thousands of demonstrating Communist youth.

The planned invasion to demonstrate "for peace" was announced by the Communist press in the wake of Friday night's demand by Russia that the Big Three powers lift restrictions on trade between the East-West zones of Germany. The Soviets charged the trade bars violate the 1949 agreement ending the Red blockade of Berlin.

Western Allied officials in Germany will meet in Bonn next week to consider a reply to the Soviet charge. They declined comment until experts have studied the demands made by Gen. Vassily Chuikov, Soviet control commission chairman.

Although the aim of the Russian move was not immediately apparent, observers considered it significant in view of the tension in this Red-encircled city. It could fore-shadow another blockade if the Soviets are looking for an excuse for such a maneuver.

Shortly after the Soviet licensed news agency ADN reported the protest, West German officials announced that East and West Germany had concluded a new trade agreement calling for the exchange of 200 million marks (47 million dollars) worth of goods to run until Dec. 31.

U. S. Olympic Cagers Down Russia, 36-25

HELSINKI (AP)—The United States Olympic basketball team, rallying after a slow start, whipped a stubborn, ball-freezing Russian team, 36 to 25, today to retain its Olympic title. Russia took second place in the final tournament standing.

The only French possession on the mainland of North or South America, French Guiana, is also France's oldest colonial outpost.

Army Speeds Up Reports Of Casualties

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The Army is speeding up its reports on casualties in the Korea fighting to the families back home.

The chief of the Army's casualty branch said today that the time required at present to notify next of kin averages six and a half days from the time the soldier is killed, wounded, reported missing in action or captured.

Col. Curtis H. Bennett of St. Augustine, Fla., said the average time six months ago was 15 days. Bennett is on a 60-day assignment in Korea from Washington to streamline the casualty report process.

Under ideal conditions, he said in an interview, notification of a casualty could reach the family concerned in five days. "Speed is essential," he said, "but we must also be most accurate. We can't sacrifice accuracy for speed and we try to report the facts and facts alone."

Bennett is working on the speed-up along with Col. Henry H. Wild of Billings, Mont., adjutant general of the U. S. Eighth Army and Maj. George W. Zeller of Baltimore, chief of the Eighth Army casualty division.

his running mate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California, will go into "all the nooks and crannies in the United States."

In Wyatt, Stevenson chose a long time friend as his personal campaign manager. Wyatt, 46, is a former mayor of Louisville and was federal housing expediter in 1946-47. He is a lawyer and also has been national chairman of Americans for Democratic Action.

Stevenson invited three of the men he defeated for the presidency to discuss campaign plans with him. Invitations went to Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia and Averell Harriman.

The Democratic National Committee was told yesterday that many Florida Democrats will vote the Republican ticket in November.

Richard D. Barker, Florida's Democratic national committee man, wired McKinney that "re-entrenchment of Florida Democrats on account of efforts of certain elements in the convention to drive the South out of the Democratic party is steadily increasing."

Baker said the party's platform is "entirely unsatisfactory" and that there is opposition to Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama as the vice presidential nominee on account of his "Fair Deal record."

A light vote is expected in Kentucky's Democratic and Republican primaries today. This is predicted because four Democrats and three Republicans in the eight congressional districts have no opposition. U. S. Sen. Thomas R. Underwood, Democrat, and his Republican opponent, former U. S. Sen. John Sherman Cooper, also have received certificates of their party nominations.

COMPETITION

Business competition in times like these is bound to develop a regard for the rights of others. The keen competition among American bankers has developed a consideration for customers to a much greater degree than the branch banking systems of Europe, Canada and elsewhere.

The foremost thought of the officers of the First National Bank is to respect the right of their customers and to safeguard their deposits. The result is a friendly, prudent and considerate bank
